PLACING/ORGANISATION

"(W)hole" is a demanding piece of music both in terms of its long duration, large number of instruments and a challenging chambermusical interaction. Most of the music in "(W)hole" is detailly written in metrical time. In one part however (J), the musical events take place during given periods of time in the score. The 3 percussionists deal with variations of the same instrument setting. These include unpitched metal instruments (from the musicians own instrument-arsenal), instruments of wood, different sized drums and gran cassa, cymbals, tamtams and thai-gong. In addition each musicians plays a melodic percussion instrument (one of them even two). Rubbing, squeaking and chirping are among the more untraditional techniques asked for in this piece.

Composer's comments

In the images of the visual artist Anne-Karin Furunes I find relationships to music. From the mechanical action of perforating holes of different sizes through the canvas, she presents face portraits in monumental formats. The penetration or small openings in the closed surface, like transparency of nothingness, the holes are studiously elaborated to form recognizable motives. However the expressions continuously change, depending on the viewer's position or the amount of permeating light. Music itself is volatile; the previous already finishes the next! It is abstract and impalpable, however still physical, through the actions of musicians playing it. A link towards Furunes' work of art is the mechanical, firm and fixed versus the variable and floating.

During the first two performances of the composition "(W)hole" for 3 percussionists, some of Furunes' works were present in the concert-room, serving both as reference and relief towards my music.
