The musical score consists of ten staves of music. The first five staves (I, II, III, Ad lib IV, IV) are for wind instruments, each with a treble clef and a key signature of one flat. Staff I starts with a forte dynamic (ff). Staff II follows with a dynamic ff. Staff III starts with a dynamic ff. Staff IV starts with a dynamic ff. Staff V starts with a dynamic ff. The sixth staff is for the slagwerk (percussion), indicated by a square symbol. The seventh staff is for instrument I, the eighth for instrument II, the ninth for instrument III, and the tenth for instrument IV. The score concludes with a final staff for the slagwerk, marked with a dynamic ff.
